REPUBLICAN LOCALS.

Republican Caucus.

The Republicans of the City of Bangor are hereby requested to meet at City Hall, Friday evening, July 31st, 1860, at 7:30 o'clock, to select Seven Delegates to represent said City at the Republican County Convention to be held in City Hall, Bangor, on Saturday, August 4, 1860, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating a County Attorney.

By order of the City Committee.

E. E. Bourne, Chairman.

E. E. Bourne, editor of the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier, is going to the Convention, to-day, in the capacity of a delegate

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1884.

For Governor,
EDWIN C. BENSON.

For Congressmen,
REPUBLICAN
County Convention.

The Republican voters of the County of Penobscot are requested to meet in their several cities, towns and plantations, at the usual places of holding their meetings, on

TUESDAY, THE 5TH DAY OF AUGUST NEXT,

AND CHOOSE

Republican Caucuses.

The Republican voters of Bangor are entitled to meet at their usual places in the several wards of said city, on Friday, August 1st, A. D., at seven o'clock in the evening, for the purpose of choosing delegates to attend the County Convention, which will assemble at the CITY HALL, BANGOR, on the following Tuesday, August 5th, at 10 o'clock A. M., to nominate candidates to be supported at the ensuing election, and to transact such other business as may come before said Convention.

The basis of representation will be one delegate for every fifty votes cast for Governor in 1882, and one additional delegate for a fraction of said number exceeding twenty-five votes.

J. W. BONIGAN, Secretary.

M. G. PEASE, Chairman.

Republican Caucuses.

This evening the Republicans of Bangor will assemble in the various wards at half past seven o'clock to select delegates to attend the County Convention next week. There will be a full representation of the party in each ward. Bangor Republicans appreciate the importance of this coming election and will give a good account of themselves in September.

The Democratic Revolt.

The Commercial argues to have discovered that the supposed method of counting Democratic conventions does have the effect to subject to defeat the Maine ticket adopted by the same convention, does not pay and it becomes much less expensive than the Maine Democracy. Hence we find the Democratic press of the South who control the Democratic party and policy of the country, in direct violation of the judgment of the majority of their own party in Maine, and in defiance of the Democratic State Committee, which, as we have shown, is entitled to control the action of the party in such matters, and which has declared that the Democratic party in Maine will not be represented in the coming election, and will not support the Democratic ticket, or the TARIFF Party ticket, this fall will count one in favor of license. In 1884 over 35,000 Democrats refused to vote against the constitutional amendment. It is for them to say whether they will vote for license this year. The indications are that a good many Democrats will decline to be whipped into line in support of something they do not believe in by a ridiculous minority of the party.

The National Election Bill in Peril in the Senate.

[Special Despatch to the Boston Journal.]

WASHINGTON, July 23. The Federal Election bill is in peril in the Senate. It is in less danger from Democratic opposition than from Republican timidity. There are a few Republicans in the Senate who control the Republican votes on election bills, and who are in constant communication with the leaders from the Southern States. The paragraph which it quotes from the Union fully proves what THE WHIG has already said recently, that the Union is an unscrupulous Democratic organ and would jump at an opportunity to attack the Republicans. This very paragraph contradicts the allegations of the Union's organs at the recent convention because it disproved the previous allegation of the Commercial that the papers refusing to indorse the Maine campaign are allies of the Republican party. The Union shows that this license movement has always been defeated in Democratic conventions controlling sufficient to a full representation. This fact was fully demonstrated this year when the party platform was changed by a total vote of only 200, the license movement already having been rejected by the first convention. The Union also adds that "at least two-thirds of the party, not only people but voters, a plank unexceptionably indorsed in a platform already made." There is but way in which the Democratic opponents of license can reject the plank and that is by declining to vote for it this fall. Of course every intelligent man knows that his vote for the regular Democratic ticket, or the TARIFF Party ticket, this fall will count one in favor of license. In 1884 over 35,000 Democrats refused to vote against the constitutional amendment. It is for them to say whether they will vote for license this year. The indications are that a good many Democrats will decline to be whipped into line in support of something they do not believe in by a ridiculous minority of the party.

The Argentine Revolution.

[New York Tribune.]

The causes of the Argentine revolution are complex, but indications that the result will be completely successful in the end. The proximate discovery of the conspiracy against the government and the imprisonment of General Campos and other leaders precipitated the movement. Those who were implicated in the plot had gone too far to retreat, and they were compelled to fight in order to protect themselves against trial by court-martial and summary punishment. The movement began on Saturday with the revolt of a portion of the garrison under its leaders, General Campos was released and assumed command of the insurgent forces, which speedily took possession of the arsenal and the barracks. The garrison was divided against itself, one portion occupying, with the assistance of the police, the Plaza Victorio or Sitio, in front of the government house, and the other the Plaza Lorea, three squares away.

There was fighting in the streets between the rebels for two days, but the insurgents, according to the latest advices, finally succeeded in crushing the Plaza Victorio, where their military chief commanded the government loyalists. This fact, with the movement of the fleet, insurgent and loyalist, in the waters of Buenos Ayres, would seem to indicate that the control of the city would be in the hands of the insurgents. The rebels of the Plaza Lorea allowed the military commanders in the Government interest had thrown the brunt of the hostile assault. The fighting must have occurred in the Middle, and the Mayo, the fashionable quarter in the city. What destruction has been wrought in the quarters Plaza Victorio is not yet clear from the accidental inflation of the revolutionists.

With the insurgents bombarding the government house and in possession of the military magazines, their triumph in the city seems already assured. President Celman, has escaped from the city, but may attempt to rally the Government forces in Rosario and Cordova, and the revolutionary leaders whose capture is announced with virtually taken away the whole campaign. The open ports of Montevideo and Buenos Ayres will in likely be prohibited public opinion in the powerful nation against an administration that has been guilty of political recklessness and corruption in financial policy. The large foreign element in the Provinces, which has been taken out mainly from Italy, cannot safely be trusted in political disorders and has no heart for civil war. If the insurgent leaders can restore order in the capital and organize a new Government that will have some right to public confidence, they will probably be allowed for a season to establish a military dictatorship.

Bloodshed and carnage in the streets of Buenos Ayres have naturally caused a heavy decline of all classes of Argentine securities in England. Whatever may be the issue of this civil strife, the financial credit of the country will suffer for a long time in the managed centres, from which hundreds of millions of capital have been drawn during the last thirty years. This impaired credit may be a national gain in the end. The feeling with which Argentine has been borrowing money in England at high rates, for gold mines and railways in Europe the nation will be found to adopt a more conservative policy of subsidizing foreign enterprises. Argentine has undoubtedly a great future, but it will not yet have reached the stage of development which will make loan borrowing. It has been doing too much for many years. It needs a rather quiet time.

BAR HARBOR, July 23. Entertainments of the various sorts commencing for the season of the Knox Hancock and Washington, Bangor and Aroostook and other, to exhibit to the bay and the object of interest to generally to have an unusually interesting season. Unusual social activity has been observed about the town, as small boys throwing firecrackers of unusual size and force are going to all hours of the night, and tongues gruffer to be quite shocked and ashamed.

Further than that the entertainments are for public benefit and others on this island are in connection or invitation without definite reference to the entertainment of.

The steamer Lewiston, that occasionally sits up at the wharf at their pleasant cottage, "Ingleside." All of the notable people of Bar Harbor were present.

Mrs. Eugene Hale left Ellsworth yesterday.

Judge and Mrs. Emery, of Mount Desert Point gave a pleasant sailing party last Monday evening to Bluehill harbor and back. The bright moonlight added much to the enjoyment of the party.

The guests at Hotel Bonnie in Winter Harbor gave a pleasant entertainment of miscellaneous nature last Monday evening.

"Yes, gentlemen, Small Hope, Vandercliff's ten thousand dollar pacer, is slaughtering, on express trains, from New York, and it's a shame. He was the greatest 'ringer' on the American turf, and made fortunes for more than one man. I ought to know, for I was his 'rubber.'"

There were a number of gentlemen in the reading room of the Leland hotel, and they are all admirers of the trotter. A discussion arose about Vanderbilt's and Bonner's possessions of horseflesh, when the "rubber," or groom of Small Hope, opened their eyes about the horse whose name was on the lips of members of every trotting association in America fourteen years ago. After a successful career of five years the clique who handled him were defeated in Boston, and, after considerable trouble had been experienced, the greatest turf scandal of modern times was exposed.

The horse was forever barred at the meeting, of the national turf congress, and his driver, Bill McGuigan, was also barred from ever driving a trotting horse for a purse or stake over an Association course. After much litigation the famous horse was sold to Vanderbilt. With Lady Mac he annihilated all steam records, and in his old age is compelled to draw an express wagon. He was bought by his present owner for $65.

"He must be about 19 years old now," said the former groom, who is now in the real estate business, "but when he was 4 years old he trotted many a mile in 2:15. He was the cleanest trotter that ever looked through bridle-rein, no boots, braces, check reins or any modern trotting paraphernalia for him. And when it came to heats he was the greatest stayer I ever heard of."—Chicago Journal.

Cost of Living in a Big City.

May I be allowed a little space to tell how my wife and I and babe get 10 meals live on $1,000 per year?

We have a nice cottage in Waverly avenue, Brooklyn, of ten rooms and bathroom, fitted up with all modern improvements, with a lawn in front and one in rear, where grow a pear tree and lilac and other bushes. For this house we pay a yearly rent of $300. Other expenses are as follows:

Washing and ironing	$60
Coal and wood	40
Gas and oil	30
Ice during four summer months	6
Provisions	300
House rent	300
Total	$736

which leaves $264 per year for charity, clothes, excursions, amusements and sundries. We have no doctor's bills, and always have a well supplied table, with fruit and vegetables in their season.

This is not an exceptional case. Many there are, so they inform me, to marry and live comfortably and well on a much smaller income. If the fair beloved has but a modicum of the natural qualities, independence and grit, $1,000 will guide the ship of life safely past all shoals and rocks into pleasant waters, where is shade, beauty and peace. This has been my experience.—Cor. New York Sun.

Edison's Democratic Ways.

Edison is a queer millionaire and the most famous living inventor. His present wealth, which amounts to many millions, is as nothing compared to what it will be in the next few years; but he still works away in his laboratory, and comes forward to greet you in just such a suit of clothes as he wore twenty years ago. As compared with Edison's dingy little shop of twenty years ago, our Menlo park, in which he used to eat his bread and cheese mixed on an old packing box, talking over the work in hand with his two or three workmen, the present surroundings are fabulously luxurious.

Everything shows unbounded means, which may be the case when we remember that his famous laboratory costs $200,000 a year to maintain. But the master mind is still the same. When he works it means work for his men. In the old days at Menlo park it was no uncommon thing for him to remain at the bench for forty-eight hours at a stretch, sending one of the boys for crackers and cheese when he felt hungry, and not giving up until his assistants had actually fell asleep standing up. Today he is just as interested.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Friendly Sparrow.

A lady had a canary who was a great favorite, but the fondness of his mate obliged her often to put him outside the window among some trees which were trained up in front of her house. One morning while the cage was thus placed a sparrow was observed to fly round and round it, to stand on the top and to twitter to the bird within as if desirous of forming a friendship. After a few moments he flew away, but returned in a short time bearing a worm in his bill, which he dropped into the cage. Day after day the sparrow continued his friendly acts, and at length the two birds became so intimate that the canary very often received the food thus brought into his own bill from that of the sparrow. Some of the neighbors, desirous to see how far the sparrow's generosity would go, hung out their canaries also, when he likewise brought them worms, but his first and longest visit was always paid to his earliest acquaintance.—New York Mail and Express.

The Largest Englishman.

Thomas Congley, of Dover, England, is said to be the heaviest of her majesty's many subjects. He is an intelligent and respectable citizen, 49 years old, having been born (of parents not above the normal size) in 1843. As a baby he was considered small and not over healthy. His present weight is 40 stone (560 pounds); height, 7 feet 3-4 inch; measurement of waist, 90 inches, and of legs, 36.—St. Louis Republic.

A Worried Man.

Mrs. Simkins has just heard that her husband has been drawn to serve on a jury.

"John Simkins on the criminal jury!" exclaimed Mrs. Simkins. "Well, all I can say is that I congratulate the criminals."

"Why, Mrs. Simkins! Is your husband a very merciful man?"

"Merciful! Why, John Simkins wouldn't hang a picter, much less a dear, unless he was just made to!"—Montreal Star.

A new incandescent lamp has been fabricated which is said to obviate disadvantages. The carbon filament is made of raw silk threads put through a catalytic process and capable of bearing high temperatures.

Visitor—You have a magnificent library, Mr. Richleg—Yes, but it is a great deal of trouble to brush down the spiders' webs and dust it every week or so.—Texas Siftings.

THIS MAY MEAN YOU!

Are you up with the times and do you get the best the market affords for the money you pay out? How is it out in the kitchen? Have you the modern improvements there? If you have, then it is not written for you, because you are buying and using Brussels soap. If otherwise, be wise, and when next you order soap, try Brussels and you will gain a point over hard work. It's economical.

SOLD IT TO THE LIGHT.

The man who tells you confidentially just what will cure your cold is prescribing Kemp's Balsam this year. In the comparison of this remarkable medicine for coughs and colds no expense is spared. It combines only the best and purest ingredients. Each bottle is carefully tested as to the light, and took the highest honors at the World's Fair. Sold by druggists at 25 cents, large size; small size, 10 cents. Ask your druggist for Kemp's Balsam. Sold by all druggists. Trial size free.

The woolen mill at Wayne, formerly operated by John Holland, but which has been for some time shut down, has been purchased by a company, which has been organized recently, to be known as the Wayne Woolen Company, with a capital of $50,000 paid in. The mill will be started at once and one new set of machinery added to it, making three sets. It will manufacture best blankets. Mr. Holland will be the superintendent.

A movement has been started to re-stock Lake Auburn with salmon and to protect the fish after they have been put there. The project for preserving the fish in Lake Auburn Spring Hotel has contributed a sum of money and has arranged with the fish commissioners to put more salmon into the lake. In the movement for the protection of the fish it is expected that everybody will sympathize, and undoubtedly it will be impossible of enforcement, if need be.

Two men tried to work a confidence game at the Union Station in Portland, Monday night, but did not succeed. Their intended victim notified the police.

Work has just begun on an addition to the dormitory of the young ladies of Colby University. The addition will be 22x31 and two stories high. On the first floor there will be a dining room and on the second a bath room and seven sleeping rooms. The addition will cost $1200. Twenty young ladies are expected in the entering class this Fall.

The Kennebec Journal matches that cat-bird-worm story that came from Waterville the other day by this remarkable tale of a dog whose mate though longer and able to monopolize the meat, took the second place, with possession of a very exciting temper for game. When he finds and proceeds to munch his bone to the exclusion of all others, the former canine goes a short distance, barks furiously up a tree or try a hole in the ground. When his mate abolishes the meat finally becomes excited enough to leave his bone and join the hunt for supposed game, the former rushes back, seizes the bone thus left and charges away with it.

It is surprising to see how a policeman loses all ambition to distinguish himself as a worker immediately upon his appointment to the force. Or rather, how little work satisfies him. He becomes so much accustomed to standing around on corners and superintending where others are working, that active exertion without big pay ceases to be an attraction to him. A policeman recently appointed dog inspector and contractor to Gardiner, was reduced to $365 a year. Such economy is said by ralphs that the combined duties of slapping a dog, dragging the canine's remains to the City Farm and depositing them in Mother Earth to sing with the ashes of his fathers all for one dollar per head, is asking too much of an "official." There are plenty of ambitious country boys who would be hired to dispose of six or eight dogs for a dollar, calling it fun instead of "the mash."

Fair weather and consequently the Campmeetings are happy. The attendance of the opening day has been larger than any previous year and all indications point to an unusually successful meeting. The following are the arrivals at the tents and cottages Monday: A. T. Dunn, Portland; Mrs. A. F. Dunn, Portland; George Woodman, Lewiston; Mrs. George Woodman, Lewiston; Miss Ella Woodman, Lewiston; Mrs. A. E. Dailey, Portland; C. A. Dailey, Portland; W. H. Stevens, Portland; Mrs. W. H. Stevens, Portland; Howard Stevens, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Davis, Portland; Misses Willard, Portland; Harold Dunham, Portland; J. M. Jordan, Portland; Della Taylor, Newcastle; Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Owen, Waterville. Isabel Allen, Kent's Hill; Mrs. Erwin Brown, Kent's Hill; Mrs. J. S. Ayer; Bangor; Mrs. A. H. Reed, Boothbay Harbor; Lizzie M. Hodgkins, West Bridgewell; W. F. Morse and family, Kennebunk; Mrs. Sullivan's Miss Emma Kennedy, Bangor; O. M. Cousins and family, Cumberland Mills; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wentworth, Portland; Carlton Kimball, Portland; Miss L. M. Gatts, Portland; Miss M. A. Eastman, Portland. The private cottages are all occupied.

The heirs of the Coburn estate have unanimously agreed upon a plan for the management of their extensive real estate interests. Hon. Turner Bagwell of Solon, to be agent of the estate and to be given power of attorney from the individual owners for the transaction of all necessary business, including the sale of property that may be found desirable to sell.

The Lagoda Manufacturing Company, Biddeford, is building a large cotton house in its yard. The company has its new mill all in running order and could now add to it, putting in same new machinery and otherwise improving some portions of the remainder of its mill plant. The corporation contemplates as early increase of 10,000 spindles. This will give just 100,000 in all.

"No water at Kennebunk" is the message given to all west bound trains at the Saco western division station. Owing to the dry weather the water there has given out and trains which heretofore have taken water at that station now "water up" at Saco.

TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR

A WONDERFUL REMEDY!

MARVELOUS IN ITS EFFECTS!

Mothers, save your children from the Nameless and fatal effects of pin worms, by giving

DR. JOHN F. TRUE'S

Pin Worm Elixir.

A GREAT DISCOVERY!

It is common to see the babies, their worst and most offensive remedy known for the child killing disease. As a remedy for pin worms it is a perfect success. It expels all kinds of worms, and in fact all living creatures that infest the bowels is entirely painless, in fact very pleasant to take. It is the only effectual remedy for worms in children that is known. It not only effectually removes them from the system, but destroys the eggs and disagreeable worms. Do not let your children have them. Week and puny for years are at once built up and strengthened by its use. It is a certain cure for a fatal and general disease. It is a corrective of the gastric juices, and is a perfect tonic. Any child will take it. It is a vegetable preparation and is without a rival. It is the only vegetable that cannot be harmful. It has also expelled several Tape Worms, one of eight hundred inches in length, and is the only remedy in the world that will do it. It is a vegetable preparation and is without a rival. It is a wonderful remedy. It is a wonderful remedy. It is a wonderful remedy
